New Manor Manor Facility to Open in Novi 100 Workers Needed for New Nursing Home

New Maple Manor facility to open in Novi, Michigan. 100 workers needed for new nursing home
 The management of Maple Manor, an assisted-living nursing home in Wayne, announced it will open a new facility in Novi in 2012.

The 100-bed Wayne Maple Manor, which is being run by Dr. Stella Evangelista (Marcus's mother), specializes in the care of people who are recovering from orthopedic surgeries.

A video presentation showed many patients expressing their satisfaction of the services of Maple Manor, described as a facility that “bridges the gap between the hospital and the home.”

Speaking at the PCCM's networking event held last Nov. 12 at Petrozuello's Banquet Center in

Troy, Attorney Marcus Evangelista, Maple Manor's chief financial officer, said the new assisted-living facility will have 85 beds and first-class amenities. “For the new facility, we are hiring 100 employees,” Evangelista announced. “The building is now under construction, and we will start operations in January,” he said.

The patients are happy because they are well taken care of by competent and well motivated staff, Marcus said. “We also serve gourmet meals every day to our patients.”

Among those to be hired are nurses, nursing assistants and cooks.

In its latest assessment of the services of assisted-living facilities in Michigan, Medicare gave a perfect score to Maple Manor, adjudging it No. 1. “It is just as good as a five-star hotel,” Marcus said of its services.

The success of Maple Manor in Wayne prompted the Evangelista family to expand its operations by building a new facility in Novi.

The reason behind this, he said, is the consistent effort to keep its good reputation” in the industry. Maple Manor does not economize when it comes to the care of the patients, he added.
